Great idea. I will work on a list of just local people.

Assuming there is no resolution submitted today do you think I should send a brief reply to the people who emailed (only to the ones that seem to be local -- not all the unsigned form emails)-- once the agenda is posted? If you could create an email list that I could send to -- better to use Outlook bcc instead of Mail Chimp?

Something along the lines of:

The agenda for the April 23 Cambridge City Council meeting (LINK) does not include a policy resolution suggesting a boycott of Hewlett Packard products, nor is there anything on the agenda related to Israel or Palestine.

Please be advised that the City Council's rules only allow members of the public to speak to items that are on the agenda. Signs, placards and posters are not allowed inside the Sullivan Chamber at City Hall. These rules are strictly enforced and we ask for your respect for our conducting the business at hand.

This Monday we have a very full agenda, which includes the city manager's first presentation on the City's FY19 Budget and a petition for a zoning amendment for an expanded Flood Plain Overlay District to better protect the health and safety of buildings and people from the anticipated threats of climate change. Anything else of note? If you would like to speak on any item on the agenda you may sign up online here; you will have up to three minutes. The public comment period is at the beginning of the meeting, which starts at 5:30pm.
